Marriages.

ATKINSON-RUDOLPH Mr. W. T. Atkinson and Miss Bettie Rudolph, both of this city, were married in the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. Brigham, of Dyersburg. The church was well filled, we might say crowded, by the friends of the young couple. A march was played as the wedding party came up the aisle. The bridegroom is a prominent young business man of this city, being a partner in the bookstore of Owen, Moore & Atkinson. The bride is a bright and very attractive young lady, the daughter of our well known citizen, Mr. J. W. Rudolph.

The young couple left on a short tour Mr. Emmet Atkins, of Orange Home, Fla., and Miss Jennie A. Flowers were married at the residence of the brides' father, Col. J. S. Flowers, in Logan county, Ky., Thursday evening. The following were the attenlah Atkins; J. L. Wilkerson and Miss Maggie Collins; Q. A. Elliott and Miss Lena Wooten: J. H. Maccontain dants: J. N. Flowers and Miss Talu-Lena Wooton; J. H. Macrae and Miss Maggie Flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. S. Campbell. The bridegroom formerly lived in Clarksville, and has many friends here who congratulate him on this happy event. The newly married pair will make their home in Florida.

Masonic Banquet-The Masonic Lodge in this city held an interesting meeting last Friday night, which was participated in by a number of visiting brothers, and also brought out a full attendance of the members.

The Master's degree was conferred on Walter D. Kincannon, G. T. Cunningham and Thomas Bourne.

After the ceremonies were gotten through with, the lodge and its visitors sat down to a superb banquet, which it would be superfluous to say, was heartily partaken of and very much enjoyed. The lodge is on quite a boom now

There has recently been a large accession to its membership, and it is in every way flourishing. St. Bethlehem.
